

VENTILATION—PURE AIR.

With a single valve, from 6s. each; with leaden pulley, from 8s. 6d. These ventilators are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

NOIRMAN'S VENTILATING GRATES.

These grates are a long and a half century old, and are the only ones in use, and are the most perfect in their construction, and the most perfect in their operation. They are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

PRIZE MEDAL FOR STOVES.—The ARNOLD STOVES, exhibited by F. EDWARDS, were the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded.

The ARNOLD STOVES, exhibited by F. EDWARDS, were the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

STOVES, RANGES, GAS FITTINGS.

BENEFINK and COMPANY, of 11, Old Street, London, are the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

TO BUILDERS CARPENTERS, CABINET-MAKERS, &c.

JOHN DALE, 18 and 19, Chiswell-street, Finsbury, London, is the only one to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

BRITANNIA NAIL WAREHOUSE, 44, FARRINGDON STREET, &c.

BRITANNIA NAIL WAREHOUSE, 44, FARRINGDON STREET, &c. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

GREAT EXHIBITION.—DRAWING.

J. L. BENHAM and SONS, of 19, Wigmore Street, London, are the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

PRIZE MEDAL FOR COOKING.

J. L. BENHAM and SONS, of 19, Wigmore Street, London, are the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

CLARK and HUNT'S IRONMONGERY.

CLARK and HUNT'S IRONMONGERY, of 19, Wigmore Street, London, are the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

TO BUILDERS CARPENTERS, CABINET-MAKERS, &c.

JOHN DALE, 18 and 19, Chiswell-street, Finsbury, London, is the only one to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

PRIZE MEDAL FOR SUPERIOR

J. H. BOOBBEE, of 19, Wigmore Street, London, is the only one to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

BATHS.—J. TYLOR and SON'S

J. TYLOR and SON'S, of 19, Wigmore Street, London, are the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

PATENT WROUGHT NAILS.—These

PATENT WROUGHT NAILS.—These nails are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

WARMING and VENTILATING.

J. L. BENHAM and SONS, of 19, Wigmore Street, London, are the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

HOT-WATER APPARATUS.—The

HOT-WATER APPARATUS.—The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

PRIZE MEDAL OF THE GREAT EXHIBITION.

J. L. BENHAM and SONS, of 19, Wigmore Street, London, are the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

FOUNDRY and IRON WORKS.

FOUNDRY and IRON WORKS, of 19, Wigmore Street, London, are the only ones to which a Prize Medal was awarded. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

IRON HURDLES.—Great Reduction.

IRON HURDLES.—Great Reduction. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

PATENT SELF-ADJUSTING

PATENT SELF-ADJUSTING DOOR KNOBS and LOCKS. The stoves are arranged that the requisite quantity of air may be admitted for the day, and that a constant supply of fresh air is most required.—HAYWARD, BROTHERS, 125, Fleet Street, London, and 117, Old Street, London, and all respectable ironmongers, builders, &c.

